Cheryl,

Well, no more of being a freshman! Can you handle it? I sure can. Thanks for being there for me. You're the only one who has been there for me all year. Sue Jane Chalk are great, but I can't talk to them about important things. I'm sorry for everything dive done to you. Just think, next year we'll be sophomores! Keep up the good work, keep a smile on your face! I have a feeling we're going to need them (smiles) next year. We made it through, and I don't regret any of it. Next year will be loads of fun. Will live it up! Even if I'm not here this summer, we'll party when I get back. This year flew by, I don't want it to end, but I guess that's just part of life. Also Elmer, just follow your heart. Sue you're head is saying one thing, but that's not important. Listen to your heart. Because you might not get another Chance. I love you too much to sit back and let you watch him go right by. So listen to your heart it does more than just pump blood. You've come a long way keep on going, call me if you need to talk, I'll help. Thanks for a great & exciting year.

Sylas,

Traci McClary Fredietta

LAST WILL

I, Melanie K. Weaver, of sound mind and little body, hereby leave to these people: To Shea Stiles, I leave all my Prince tapes to listen to until you learn to love them. To Joyce Fisher and Kim Whitehurst, I leave all our memories from our past high school years, especially a band trip to Florida and band camp. To all future rifles, I leave the best of luck. To Coach Chapman, I leave all the write-offs you ever assigned.

We, Denise Epps, Kim Linley, and Anita Fly, do hereby will our ability to get along with Mr. Hankins to Jr. Conner, Mike Conner, and Ken Walls. Also we leave our will to party to all of the above. May they use it and not abuse it.

I, Mont Pewitt being of sound mind and body leave everything I have to K.G., but I leave my picture in my locker to Bill Stevens.

I, Neccie Houston, of sound mind and body, leave: To Evette Perkins, my ability to act crazy and trip out on these crazy people. To Jackie Dotson, my ability to flirt while her boyfriend is not around. To Ann Poynter, my ability to go to Mr. Gatti's and laugh at the "Field Mouse."

I, Chad Ingram, being of little mind and mutilated body, do hereby bequeath the following: To Coach Cartwright and the football team, I leave all of my crutches, braces, cast, and bandages to anyone who may need them. To Coach Dunning, I leave a pair of bifocals, so he won't miss any upcoming girls, and a cane to chase them with. To Mr. Hankins, I leave a coffee maker, a life time supply of coffee, and a pack of Rolaids. To David Bradley, I leave my ability to get out of class and/or trouble. To Mrs. Stanley, I leave a lifetime supply of M&M's and a box of red ink pens for all the ones she used on grading all of my wrong answers. To Steve Faulk, I leave my ability to "Brown-Nose" the coach so he can start.

I, Penny Moss, being of worn-out mind and body, leave the following: To Lori, I leave all the trash in my car from McDonald's. To Marty, I leave you my ability to put up with Lori, believe me you'll need it.

I, Syd Barrett, being of sound body and mind, do hereby leave.

We, Kris Pellegrini and Jenny Teal, leave: To Mr. Blanken, the ability to put up with whiners like Tina E. and us. To Baaab, Kris's ability to sit in a chair and pay no attention but still answer questions correctly. To Bobby, (another of Kris's wonderous abilities) to sit in class and answer, "I don't know," to seven questions in a row but still get a decent grade on the test. To Bonnie, our school spirit. To Tracy and Taja, our locker. To Mr. Russell, the ability to give in to con artists like Tina E. and us. To everyone, the ability to have spontaneous fun, to laugh at most anything sooner or later, to forgive all, and to help those of us who are less fortunate. To Lisa Ingram, Jenny's wardrobe.

I, Pam LaFon, of sound mind, do hereby leave the following: To the F.H.S. flags, the great ability to march in a straight line in parades, and the ability to fold all the equipment in two seconds. To my brother, John LaFon, the ability to get to school on time, to leave as fast as possible, and to decide on a major, Love Ya.

I, Darren Henrie, being of sound mind and tired body, hereby leave the following: To Scott Grimsly, the right to go to the Rocky Horror Picture Show without being carded. To Brent Hixon, the right to drive the truckster to school, if it starts, and I leave my superior basketball skills for his use. To Jeff Hunter and Kevin Anglin, Coach Daves to instruct and guide them through their basketball careers. To Adam and Mac, the right to be the school idiots and not have big fingers.

I, Stephanie Watson, being of worn out mind and awesome body, hereby leave the following: To Amy, the hope that she'll be able to make it without me, the ability to use the word "no," and hope that someday they'll come up with a cure for the Fluff-Brain Syndrome. To Mark, patience. To Gregg, a top locker.

I, Mike Fisher, being of sound mind and growing body, leave the following: To Brian Carter, one "How to Drive a Sled" handbook so he won't kiss any more bumpers. Also my calm, always accurate penalty kick style. To Andy Clarkson, a turbo charger for his oldsmobile so he can get back from Murfreesboro at top speed. Also a portable toilet for the oldsmobile. To David Bradley, a catfish hunter pitching aid to help him learn how to get those runners "coming home" without breaking Mr. Baker's windows. Also a blue and gold rock with "BHS #1" just in case. To Andrew Savage, my "Silver Dollars." To Laura Barraza, a "Watch out for Darn Nuts" bumper sticker so she can help warn all Cottonwood residents of B.A. To Gary Claiborne, a soccer player's excuse book, even though I have a feeling he knows it by heart.

We, Lori Stafford and Kim Tilley, being of small mind and too much body, hereby bequeath the following: To Mrs. Darnell and Mrs. Dodd, we leave the ability to keep their sanity, well what's left of it. To Mrs. Baker, we leave the memory of Little Miss Flucy. To Coach Dunning we leave the ability to operate the copier in the front office. To Keith Bozman, we leave the ability to put up with those unmentionable brats. To Shannon Lee, we leave the ability to have as much fun at FHS as we did.

I, Jennifer Pewitt, being of no mind and little body, leave to the following people: To Jimmy Raines, my hair brush. To Angie Dixson, the job of taking care of Jimmy. To Troy Aldous, band camp and my clarinet reeds. To Stacey York, my car. To Tamera Warner, my physics grades. To all my teachers, my smiles and good cheer throughout the year. Thanks for all your help.

I, Junior Hughes, being of sound mind and body, leave all my love to all of the ladies. I leave my gold tooth to Wayne Leach and my good habits to my brother, Randall. I leave my car, when I get one, to anyone who has the money to buy it and my charms to any lady who will fall for it, because I am going to the U.S.M.C.

We, Beth Parrot, Anna Ring, and Kalei Fischley, being of sound bodies but not of minds at all, hereby leave to the entire class of '87 true individualism that begins in the mind not the eye. To Jamie we leave a real laugh, self respect, and dignity and our ability to attract officer friendly no matter where we are.

I, Scott Hankal, do hereby bequeath the following: To Sharon and Bill, a year's supply of pizza, orange juice, and instant coffee. To Ashley T., I leave a tweek on the nose and my Voilent Femmes tape. To future Senior French horn players, I leave the ability to survive another year of band and weenie man. To Kels, I leave a driving lesson. And finally, to Annette Genoble, I leave four years of memories and the "lucky groves."

I, Stephanie Wallace, being of mind and body, do hereby leave: To my "sax" section, the ability to carry on "productive" sectionals at band camp. I personally think they should be longer — practice makes perfect? I leave pride, because it is sometimes hard to find when things don't go well. I also leave love, because ya'll gave me so much. To my brother Trey, I leave a shoulder to lean on, because you might need it before graduation and my slightly used Franklin Rebels sticker to decorate your "Cow Junior."

I, Jason Bryant being of depleted mind and numb body, hereby leave all party materials to Q, Andy, and Elmo. Use them in bad health. I leave all of my problems with the Administration to Q and Andy because Administration needs someone to pick on once the Crew is gone.

We, Yolanda and Gale, being of deranged minds, hereby leave: To Sergio, the maturity, responsibility, and decency of the Espinoza clan. To Lori, our ability to always look like we know what we are talking about even though we don't. To Mr. Blanken, since he already has numbers 1 thru 4, leave him the number 5 and the memory of our cheerful faces in the mornings.

We, Beth Rose and Lisa McConnell, being of conspicuous minds and peanut bodies, leave to Angela Clardy the monkey chart. We leave Ashley Boulware, an "F" so she will know what one looks like. We leave Tracy Barber Quincy's freezer. We leave Wendi Heath a translator for our southern dialect. We leave Shannon a better Homecoming date. To Mike, we leave a top locker that doesn't smell. And to all the above, we leave a new form of transportation.

I, Jason Kelly Goodowens, being of altered mind and original body, do hereby bequeath the following things: To anyone who will have it, my sometimes obnoxious sense of humor. To Barbara, I leave anything, and everything she'll ever need or want from me. To Kristi, I leave the ability to hang on. If I can do it, you can. And lastly, I leave whatever is left to be thrown out in tomorrow's garbage to whoever wants it. Fight it out among yourselves.

We, Sharon Hughes and Denise Curlee, being of sound mind and body, leave to Kevin King our lockers, because he's always in them. And within these lockers we leave a large supply of Big Red in hopes that he will never run out. And to Coach Watkins we leave a volume of B.B. magazines.

I, Joseph C. Gregory, being of open mind and body, hereby bequeath the following: To Kristen C., I leave all of my thoughts and dreams, too. Remember, I'll always be "Crazy for You." To all my little "fans" I leave all of my good looks, charm, and friendly personality that makes F.H.S. go around. To all of my past teachers, I leave all of my thoughts and respects. If anyone deserves it, it's you people. To all of the school staff, I give you all of my smiles. May each day be brighter and happier. I leave my parking space to whoever wants it. Whoever takes it, please don't make ant marks, there are already too many. To the rest of everyone who I didn't mention at FHS, I leave my very own colored shoelaces. Keep them clean.

I, Tina Erickson, being of open mind and hereby bequeath the following: To Trey Phinizy, all my love and caring and a place in my heart forever. To Sylvia and Celeste the ability to stay in school. To Scott B. and Todd C. all the Hoss' their little "cooler" hearts can handle. To Nancy Fenner, the ability to look after my little pumpkin-head for me. To Eric P., the best wishes with Lisa. To Shea Stiles, the ability to stay unique and to watch out for people like "eye shadow woman." To all my friends these words: Friends are forever. You mean a great deal to me and I will always remember you for as long as I live.

I, Michelle Williams, do hereby bequeath the following: To Tyge O'Donnell, the ability to always be "in control" — use it Tyge!!; the knowledge that I won, but we both lost!!; and lastly, a weekend trip to Michigan! To Lisa Hughes, I leave fond (!!) memories of first period Trig., and my hopes that she make it through Calculus next year. To Mr. Nelson, a lifetime supply of glaciers imported from Spain for future Physics students to use in determining latent heat of fusion. To Mrs. Smith, I leave enough patience to put up with rebellious (!!) students (i.e., Todd Stewart, myself) that she may have in future History classes. Lastly, to Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. Damon, I leave the determination to get next year's Annual Staff moving . . . before the first deadline!

I, Dru Myers, being of somewhat tired body and rather deranged mind, do hereby leave nothing material to anyone, 'cause I found a way to take it with me. I will leave the following immaterial gifts and advice, however:

To Brian Bordwine: my ability to wander these hallowed halls at will, skip boring classes without getting caught, and make monumental road trips during school hours (A.S. is the secret).

To "Mr. Coach, Sir" Chapman: some advice — put more of your half hour, multi-mega point, use-extra-sheet(s)-if-necessary essay questions on your tests; you know we, The Few, The Proud, The Stupid always loved them (and for God's sake, get some real dogs! Tapioca & Puddin', what a joke!).

To Mr. Blanken: the thought that somewhere, out there, are at least three dozen potential art students who will cause you as much (if not more) aggravation as I have over the years. And finally, to those nearest and dearest my heart, the FHS freshmen: I leave you this priceless bit of knowledge; HA, HA! YOU'RE STUCK HERE THREE MORE YEARS!

We've had a lot of spirit,
but because we're new and all,
no one seemed to pay attention
so we'll give it a final call:
A year of being a freshman
is all that we can stand.
It has had its ups and downs;
We've tried to take command
We've been picked on and laughed at
by the upperclassmen.
They say we're immature
but the truth is that:
We're the Freshmen
We've done our deed,
our deed is done.
We've done our work
and had our fun.
We'll welcome the new Freshmen
Since we'll move up next year.
We'll give them all the pressures.
We'll give them all our fear.
So carry on Freshmen:
Freshmen of Franklin High!!

SENIOR

Scott Damon

Scott has enjoyed getting to know the faculty as more than just his teachers.

He stressed that Mr. W. Nelson has made a lasting impression on him and taught him a lot about life, responsibility and other important lessons of growing. While attending FHS, his favorite activities were Indoor and Outdoor Soccer, Honor Society, Youth Legislature, Model U.N., and the Golf Team. A goal of his was being accepted into the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Scott hopes to stand by his principles, goals, and ideals.

Lisa Fisher

Lisa has made a commitment of playing soccer at Franklin for 4 years. She was on the Student Council her Freshman year. Her favorite subject, while at FHS, has been English. She mentioned that her fondest memories have been of the soccer team and friends she has made these years. The college of her choice is Auburn, and she plans to attend it in the Fall.

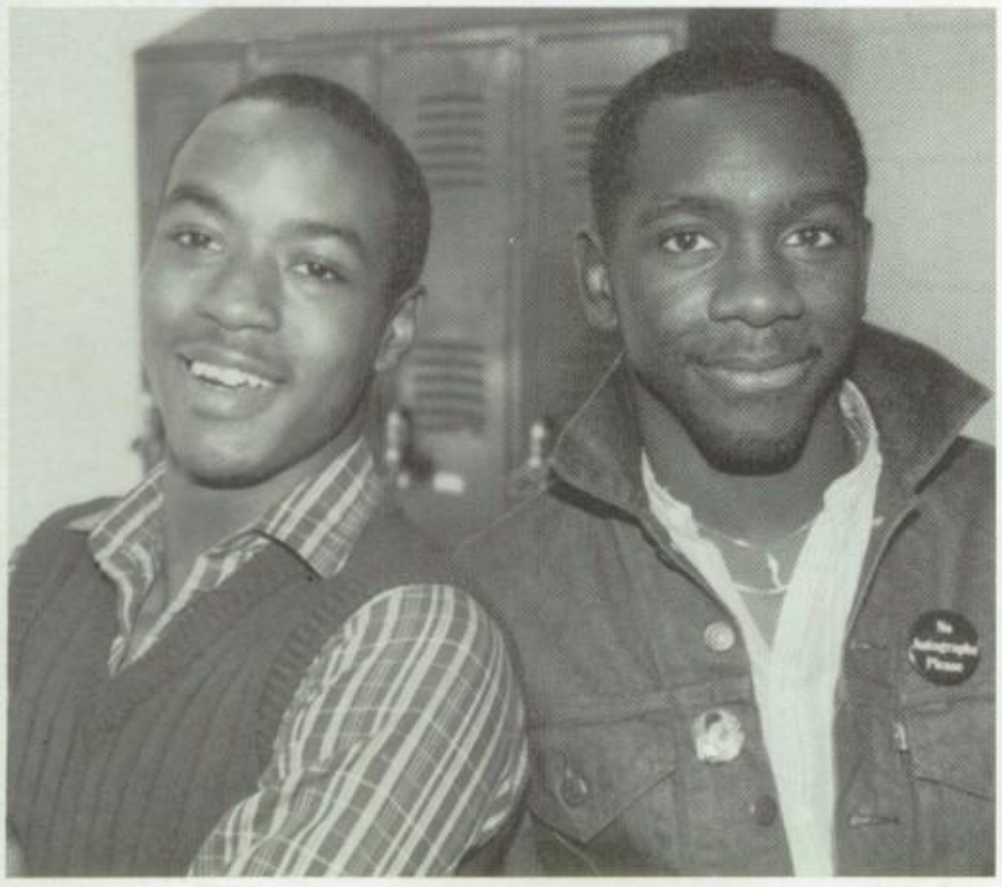
SPOTLIGHT

John Hennessee

John was in the position of wrestling manager his Sophomore and Junior year. He enjoyed being one of the spectators of many sports. What he liked best about his high school years were his friends, watching sports, reading and writing poetry, and collecting Coke items. His fondest memories are of teachers and friends at FHS that have been good to him. John currently plans to attend the University of Tennessee in Chatanooga, and become a hospital administrator.

Jenny Teal

Jenny, while attending FHS, has been playing soccer 4 years. With her help, the Girls' Soccer Team has won the State Championship for the seasons of '84-'85 and '85-'86. She has been involved in several clubs including Spanish Club, Prom committee, Deca Club, and many more. She likes to play soccer and has really come to know Coach Dodd and Coach Wiggins. Mr. W. Nelson has shown her to strive for more and has helped her to become more ambitious in life. She wishes to thank all of her other teachers at FHS for their contribution to her education. Her goal is to make good grades and to succeed in everything she does. Jenny hopes to be successful in Fashion Merchandising after college, and move to New York.



Cheryl,

STATE PLAYOFFS

GOLF

BOYS

The boys finished a somewhat disappointing season. Beginning the season with high expectations, they seemed to fall off toward the end. Andy Clarkson led the team with a low average for the season at 38.8. Brice Harrison showed great promise by missing the region tournament by only one stroke.

GIRLS

The girls finished second in the district to eventual state runner-up Father Ryan. Dawn Chapman played a strong no. 2 with Donna Joslin playing in the no. 1 spot and showing a lot of promise for next year.

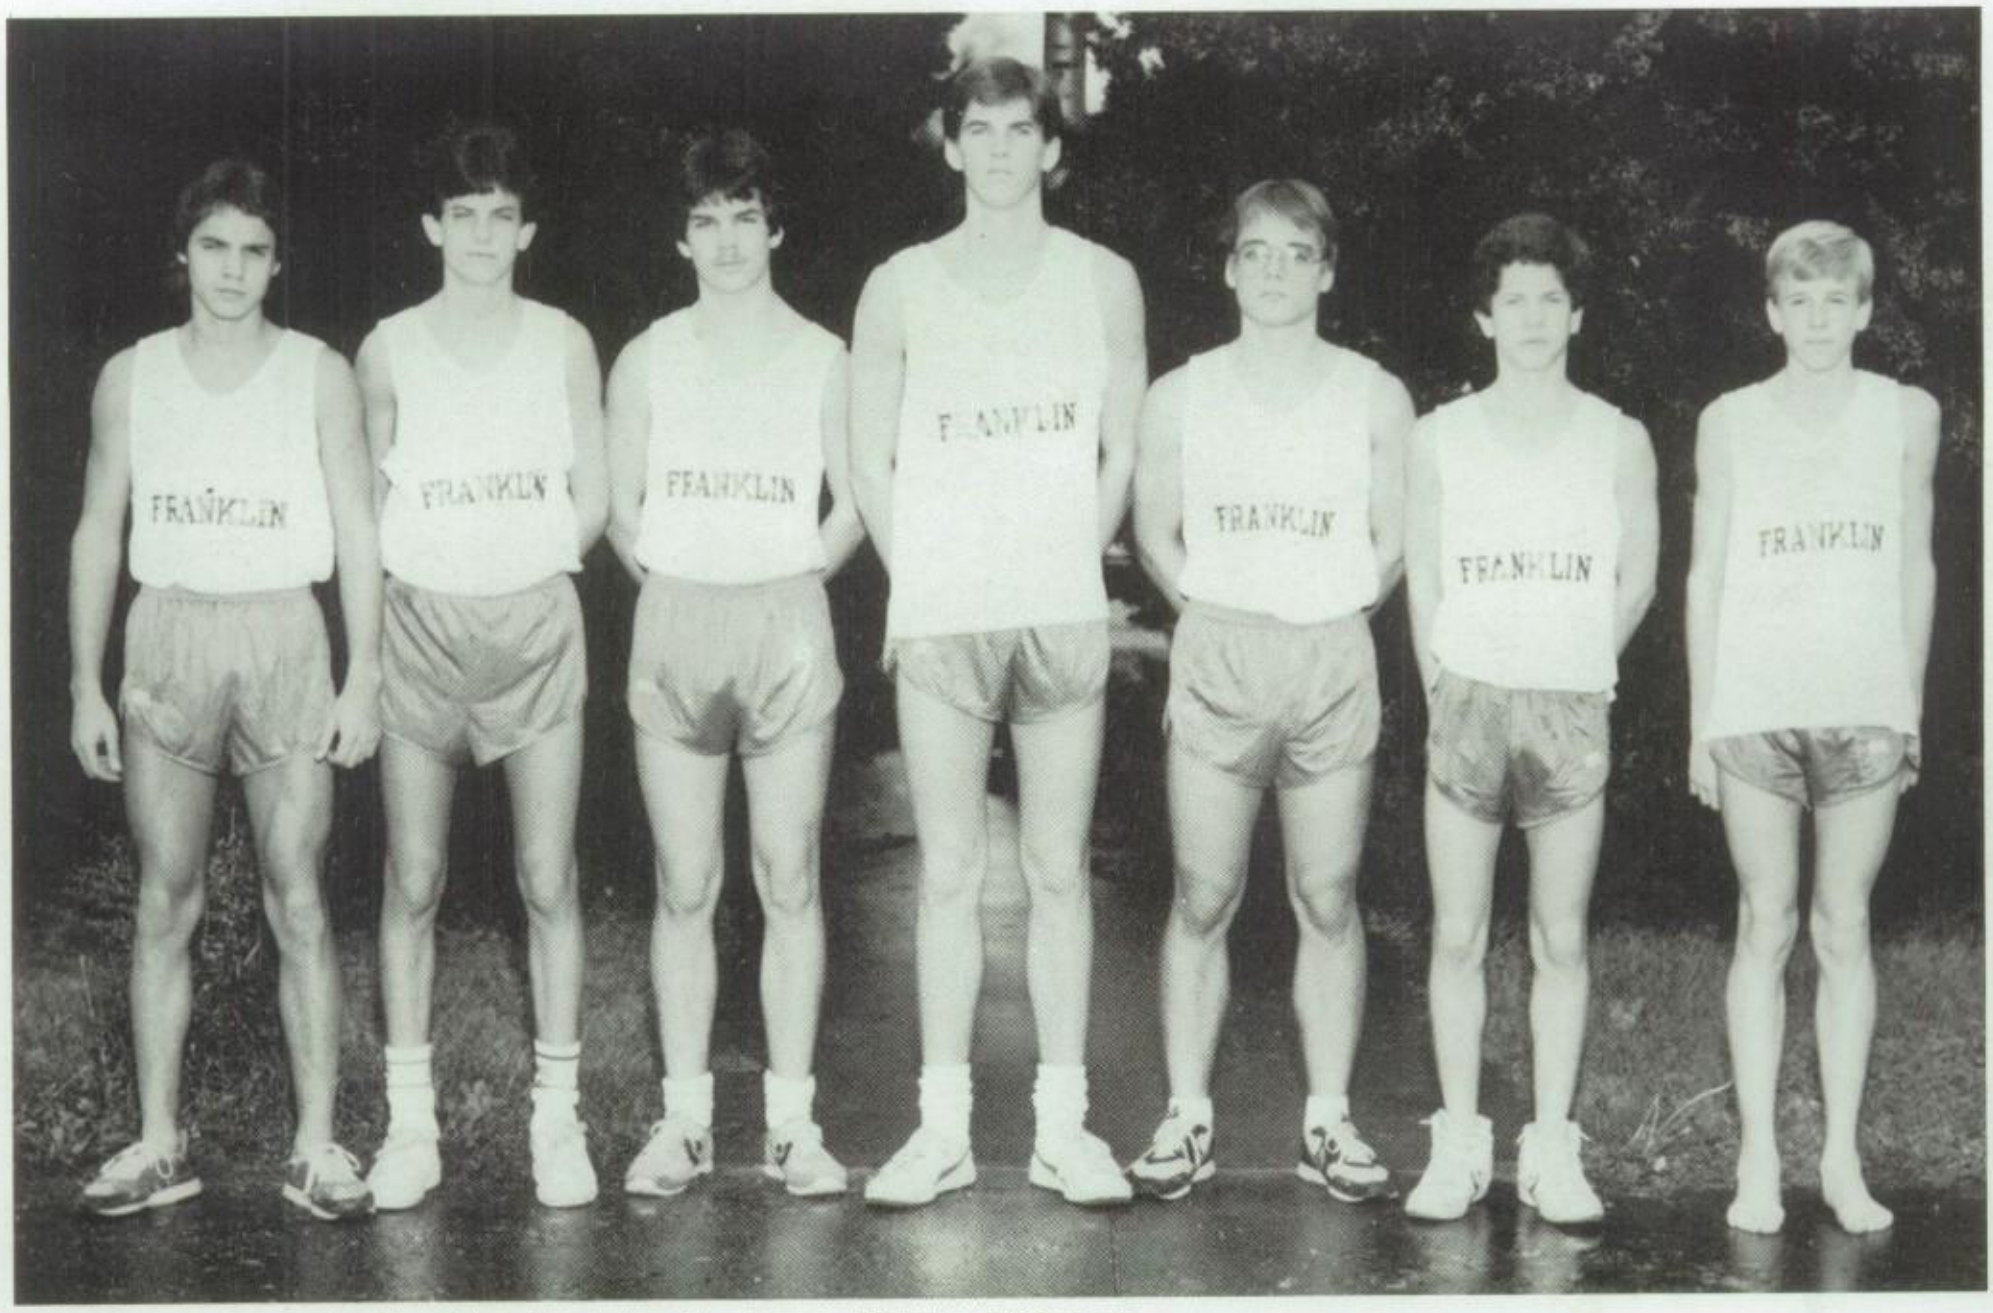
CROSS COUNTRY



L-R: Bill Chapman, Greg Crockett, Wayne Hyde, Mark Hudson, Steve Wormer, Jeff Jordan, Jeff Chapman.

The 1985 Cross Country Team capped a fine undefeated regular season by winning the district championship, finishing second in the regional meet and eighth in the state meet. Senior Jeff Jordan was consistently among the leaders in all meets. The leadership he and the other senior on the team, Mark Hudson, provided for the team was outstanding. Another fine year is anticipated next year with five returning from this year's squad.

Jeff Jordan was selected the most valuable runner on the 1985 squad.

Although the Franklin Girls finished the season of 15 and 10, it was a somewhat disappointing season. Expectations were high as was the effort, but experience and size were major shortcomings. Leadership fell on the shoulders of senior Paige Cardel and junior sisters Terri and Tracy Lane. Also contributing were sisters, Melanie and Tricia Sisson. The latter only a freshman and season long starter. Margaret Gurley, Debbie Johnson, and Fatima Ridley also played vital roles.

These students worked hard at writing bills proposing laws not already in effect. They were divided into groups to act as senator, house representative, page, or lobbiest. They formed their own mock state level government.

This year 31 Franklin High students attended the 3rd Tennessee Model United Nations General Assembly at the Nashville Rodeway Inn. The students divided themselves into groups to represent different countries. Each group draws up a proposal to try to solve world problems. The purpose of the YMCA-UN program is to develop their knowledge on international affairs, to get a first-hand experience with the trade-offs and compromises used to reach agreements on major international issues, and to learn more about countries, other than the United States.

EDITORS CORNER

I had a great time working on this year's annual, even though it was a lot of hard work. Gale is a great person to work with and taught me many skills. I'm looking forward to being editor next year and working with another super staff.

Lori A. Breaux

This year has been great considering our inexperience as a staff. I hope Lori survives next year as editor and has a staff as entertaining.

1986 Junior-Senior Prom

To: The Seniors

Another year goes passing by Another Prom is here
To some this brings a joyous smile
To others, brings a tear
For four years you have tread a path
From dawn to setting sun
But now the path gets steeper
And the climb is just begun.
We're very glad to know you
We'll miss you when you've gone
And to the Class of '86
We dedicate our Prom.

"Tender Love"
